

Tournament – player manual

How to find a tournament on MojeLiga.eu, register, enter results and follow the standings

This manual is for tournament players. It shows how to find a tournament, register for it, enter your match result through a personal link, and follow the running and final standings.

The screenshots come from sample tournaments with made-up players. Button and field names are shown in bold.

Contents

1. Finding a tournament

There are two ways to find public tournaments.

On the home page

1. Open MojeLiga.eu and switch to the Tournaments tab below the introduction.
2. You see upcoming tournaments, nearest first: date, name, city, country, number registered and status.
3. Past tournaments are collapsed under the Past tournaments line.

Filtering and sorting

1. Click the funnel icon in a column header.
2. Type the text you are looking for, or choose a tournament type or a date range.
3. A column with an active filter has its icon highlighted in yellow. Remove the filter with the clear button next to the list heading.

2. Tournament detail

Click a tournament row to open its detail. Before registering, check:

- Status – you can only register for a planned tournament,
- Tournament date and time – when it starts,
- Registration deadline – until when you must register,
- City / Country and Exact address – where it is played,
- Maximum players and Current registered players – whether there is still room; the line Registered X of Y is at the top,
- Propositions at the bottom of the page – format, schedule, entry fee, shuttles and the organiser's contact.

Under Registered players you see who has already registered. Send the tournament link to friends with the share icon next to the name.

3. Registering for a tournament

1. In the tournament detail click Register for tournament.
2. If you are not signed in to your account, the application sends you to sign in first. If needed, create an account on the Register tab and confirm it with the link from the email.
3. Back on the detail, click Register for tournament again. The registration is created with the details from your account.
4. A message confirming the registration appears at the bottom and your name is added to the list of registered players.

- Once registered, the page tells you that you are already registered for this tournament.
- Cancel registration withdraws you – do it in good time so someone else can take the place.
- The organiser sees your name, email and phone.

Important: You can only register for a planned tournament, before the registration deadline and while there is room. Otherwise the registration button is not shown.

If you need to ask something, use Contact the organiser next to the tournament name. The message is emailed to the organisers and the reply comes to your email.

4. Personal link: entering your own result

After the tournament starts, the organiser sends you a personal link – by email or in a message. With it you enter your match result without signing in, conveniently from your phone in the hall.

1. Open the link from the organiser.
2. The Player match entry page shows your current match: the round number and your opponent's name.
3. Enter the points of each set – yours in the column with your name, your opponent's in the other.
4. Click Submit result.

- The result only needs to be entered once; it counts for both players.
- After the next round is drawn the page refreshes by itself and shows your next match. Keep the link open or saved – it works for the whole tournament.
- If you have a bye, the page tells you and there is nothing to enter.

Important: The link is personal. Do not pass it on – whoever has it can enter your results. If you lose it, ask the organiser to send it again.

5. Following the tournament

The detail of a running tournament shows the Standings: rank, points, the Buchholz tie-break (the sum of your opponents' points), matches and sets. Refresh the page to see the latest state.

7. Troubleshooting

What happens	What to try
I cannot see the tournament in the list	Clear the filters (the funnel icon, or the country on the home page). Private tournaments are visible only to organisers.
The registration button is missing	Registration has closed, the tournament is full, or it has already started. Try writing to the organiser.
I cannot sign in after registering an account	Confirm your email with the link in the confirmation message.

What happens	What to try
The personal link shows no match	The next round has not been drawn yet, or you have a bye. The page refreshes by itself.
I entered a wrong result	Tell the organiser – they can correct it in tournament management.
I lost my personal link	Ask the organiser to send it again.
